5.6.1 The results of the survey must be mapped in GIS and submitted monthly to the satisfaction of the project manager.

5.7 Application of Guidelines and/or Standards

5.7.1 The heritage audit must comply with Stellenbosch's grading guideline and grading methodology.

5.7.2 Grading does not afford any formal protections in terms of the NHRA. Grading is, however, an important step into the process towards the formal protection of heritage resources. The mechanisms for the formal protections for Grade III are the Heritage Register in terms of the NHRA and/or the HPOZ in terms of the Stellenbosch Municipal Planning By-Law (Development Management Scheme).

5.7.3 Grade lll heritage resources are heritage resources that are conservation-worthy, but do not fulfil the criteria for Grade l or Grade ll (National and Provincial heritage resources). Grade III are heritage resources of local significance and are managed by the Local Planning Authority: in this case, The Stellenbosch Municipality. Grade III heritage resources are crucial in the maintenance of the character and scale of streets and historic neighbourhoods. Grade III heritage resources are worthy of conservation even in areas which have not yet been formally protected as a heritage area or protected under a HPOZ.

5.7.4 Section 7.1(c) of the NHRA describes Grade III heritage resources as:
Other heritage resources worthy of conservation, and which prescribes heritage resources assessment criteria, consistent with the criteria set out in section 3(3)

5.7.5 Regulation 43 (Government Gazette No 6820 dated 30 May 2003, Notice No 694) further qualifies Grade III heritage resources:
(a) fulfills one or more of the criteria set out in section 3(3) of the Act; or
(b) in the case of a site contributing to the environmental quality or cultural significance of a larger area that fulfills one of the above criteria, but that does not fulfill the criteria for Grade II status.

5.7.6 The NHRA suggests several criteria for determining significance. Table I is a rationalization of the criteria listed in the NHRA and additional criteria used in common practice.

Section 3 (NHRA)	Additional assessment	Also encompasses:

5.7.7 In the process of determining heritage significance, heritage professionals undertaking grading will be asked to allocate a rating in each of the significance categories, where relevant. The ratings are summarized as High/Medium/Low and are an indication of whether the heritage resource in question an Outstanding/Good/Moderate example within the relevant category is.

- Heritage resources (Grade III) are to be assessed holistically, considering the range of heritage criteria (not focusing exclusively on the architectural component) - See Table 1.

PRINT NAME:
CAPACITY:		Name of firm
SIGNATURE:		DATE:

- Any site which has been designated a Grade III is conservation worthy. This is not an interpretation but is specified in the NHRA. (Section 7 (1)(c).
- Each grading must be accompanied by a statement of significance. [Not negotiable] The statement of significance motivates and validates the grading.

5.7.8 Grade III sub-grades

Common practice subdivides Grade III into A, B, C: these subgrades are considered to "management levels".

In order to facilitate the representation of the graded heritage resources on GIS, a numerical value (4) has been given to indicate buildings that are not conservation worthy.

- Grade IIIA (Stellenbosch Municipality)

  Heritage resources have a high intrinsic significance in terms of the significance criteria identified by the NHRA and summarised in Table 1. Such heritage resources are outstanding examples or representations of a typology and may demonstrate a high degree of intactness.

- Grade IIIB (Neighbourhood/suburb)

  Heritage resources have considerable intrinsic significance in terms of the significance criteria identified by the NHRA and summarised in Table 1. Such heritage resources are marginally less significant than the Grade IIIA heritage resources.

- Grade IIIC (Street)

  Heritage resources that are significant as part of their immediate context. They contribute to the streetscape and historical character of the surrounds. They are less significant than the Grade IIIB heritage resources, but still warrant conservation. They may have some intrinsic or associational value. Alterations and additions may be evident, but the building remains a good example of the typology. Heritage value could be improved or rehabilitated.

- Potential Grade IIIC (Field rating: IIIC/4)

  Buildings that are older than 60 years, but that have been altered to such an extent that their heritage value has been greatly diminished. Demolition could be considered and where in a HPOZ if the replacement building contributed an improvement to the overall heritage environment of the streetscape.

- Not Conservation Worthy (Field rating: 4)
  Buildings that have no intrinsic value and that do not contribute the streetscape and/or historic environment or have a negative impact.

- Requires further investigation (Field rating: 5)
  Sites or buildings for which further research is required before a grading can be assigned. Reasons for this field rating would include lack of visibility or access to the heritage resource; reason to believe that archaeological heritage resources are present on the property; reason to believe that the structure on property that appears to be Not Conservation Worthy, contains significantly earlier fabric which may require heritage mitigation or permissions.

- Contemporary buildings of architectural merit or special interest (Field rating: 6)
  Buildings or structures which are not covered by the General Protections of the NHRA, but which may be good examples of a typology, representative of a style, an award-winning design, or the work of a contemporary architect, which may be considered for conservation. This rating flags these buildings for review and consideration for grading in the future.

- Intangible heritage places (Field rating: 7)
  Places and spaces which are either vacant or where the building fabric is not conservation worthy, but which is associated with a significant event in the history of Stellenbosch municipality or is the place of cultural practices which are significant to a group or a community of people. The recording of all (tangible) heritage resources through necessary survey fieldwork and the entry of all relevant and appropriate information into a geospatial SQL database (alternatively in Esri file geodatabase format).

5.8 The submission of the heritage inventory and the management plan to Heritage Western Cape for approval

5.9 The training of municipal staff for familiarisation with the data and the decision-making implications of it, in order to enable effective decision-making with respect to heritage resources and their implications for development applications and municipal planning.
