CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENT BID DETERMINATION

1. This Municipal Bidding Document (MBD) must form part of all bids[1] invited.

2. Section 4 (1) (b) (iii) of the Competition Act No. 89 of 1998, as amended, prohibits an agreement between, or concerted practice by, firms, or a decision by an association of firms, if it is between parties in a horizontal relationship and if it involves collusive bidding (or bid rigging).[2] Collusive bidding is a pe se prohibition meaning that it cannot be justified under any grounds.

3. Municipal Supply Regulation 38 (1) prescribes that a supply chain management policy must provide measures for the combating of abuse of the supply chain management system, and must enable the accounting officer, among others, to:

   a. take all reasonable steps to prevent such abuse;

   b. reject the bid of any bidder if that bidder or any of its directors has abused the supply chain management system of the municipality or municipal entity or has committed any improper conduct in relation to such system; and

   c. cancel a contract awarded to a person if the person committed any corrupt or fraudulent act during the bidding process or the execution of the contract.

4. This MBD serves as a certificate of declaration that would be used by institutions to ensure that, when bids are considered, reasonable steps are taken to prevent any form of bid-rigging.

5. In order to give effect to the above, the attached Certificate of Bid Determination (MBD 9) must be completed and submitted with the bid:-

[1] Includes price quotations, advertised competitive bids, limited bids and proposals.
[2] Bid rigging (or collusive bidding) occurs when businesses, that would otherwise be expected to compete, secretly conspire to raise prices or lower the quality of goods and / or services for purchasers who wish to acquire goods and / or services through a bidding process. Bid rigging is, therefore, an agreement between competitors not to compete.

School and Methodist Church are also located within the application area. To the North and West of the application area the urban fabric includes single residential erven, informal dwellings, churches, the Ikaya Primary School, crèches and public open space areas. The urban area to the East of the application area includes the Economic & Tourism buildings, Police Station and taxi rank site. To the South of the KTC application area there is Kayamandi Sport Fields which abuts the Kayamandi Mall with the Plankenburg Industrial adjoining the latter.

4. DEVELOPMENT DENSITY ANALYSIS

The extent of the KTC Project application area constitutes approximately 12.07ha which in turn if developed for a total of 1854 residential units results in a gross density of 154 units / ha if calculated in relation to the full extent of the application area. The above density profile is in line with the general planning principles for the establishment of more dense and integrated human settlement patterns as the latter in turn relates to achieving higher levels of spatial efficiency. The latter specifically refers to establishing the required economies of scale so as to support public transport systems, providing for a wider diversification of economic opportunity as well improving general access to public services and social infrastructure in close proximity of or as part of established residential nodes. A Concept Urban Design Framework in conjunction with a proposed town planning layout and housing typologies were prepared (SEE ANNEXURE B)

The following main design principles informed the drafting of the Urban Design Framework:

- Conserve existing multiplicity and efficiencies – include current socio-economic networks, pedestrian pathways and established trees.
- Create well-defined human-scaled streets.
- Densify along the perimeter of street blocks to provide more open space.
- Provide choice - create a variety of public and internal courtyards.
- Design with the topography.
- Plan for incremental urbanism.

Spatial mapping of existing movement routes, businesses and community facilities determine walking distances, important access points and nodes of activity. This informs the design of a pedestrian-oriented public space framework that is structured by a connected and integrated street network with quality urban courts and nodes at main intersections. Three main street typologies are developed as catalytic interventions to facilitate the redevelopment of an integrated Kayamandi Town Centre.

A Nolli map of the existing urban fabric illustrates the current density and lack of open space. The design strategy for the housing is to free up more open space by developing multi-storey perimeter blocks with internal courtyards.

Existing movement routes determine the placement of urban gateways and mid-block circulation routes. The existing town centre urban settlement is underpinned by strong and vibrant social networks. A key strategy for the redevelopment of the town centre is the incremental redevelopment of the sites – minimising the impact of displacement and allowing for precinct-by-precinct evaluation and design development. The incremental approach facilitates an opportunity for precinctspecific participatory engagement with the intended residents, acknowledging the community's request for more collaboration with the local authority and hopefully minimising local resistance against the project. The phased roll-out of housing will reduce the need for a big decanting site and the risks associated with land clearance and occupation, and housing redevelopment.

he design and implementation of a mix of housing typologies. A diverse offering of unit types and sizes caters to the diversity of potential resident profiles. Units are accommodated in two to three-storey blocks, with a framed structure that allows for incremental expansion of individual units. Block heights respect the steep slope on the site, allow for maximum natural light to all units and courtyards and retains a human scale on the street level. Unit designs accommodate the use of alternative energy sources in accordance with varying financial means and allow for economic opportunity and incremental future growth. All ground floor units are designed to accommodate potential small-scale enterprises that can interact with the street. Access to economic facilities is vital. The block thresholds are designed as covered porticoes, offering climatic reprieve and the opportunity for active urban edges for businesses and residents.

Internal courtyards will be designed in collaboration with the surrounding residents. Management strategies and programming of courtyards are proposed to be developed in partnership with local NGOs, ECDs or other community initiatives.

5. TRAFFIC IMPACT ASSESSMENT (specialist report attached as Annexure C)

A Traffic Impact Assessment was conducted and submitted with the Land Use application during April 2022 for the re development of the Kaymandi Town Centre, Stellenbosch.

The following summary represents the main findings and recommendations emanating from the TIA report.

5.1 Access to the development

Access to the Kayamandi Town Centre is obtained from the R304 via either Masitandane Street or Sokuqala Street or from Plankenburg via George Blake Street. The existing roads within Kayamandi are surfaced, with gravel roads between the informal structures. Most of the existing roads are to be retained as far as possible to reduce the cost of the redevelopment. However, there are some roads that will have to be removed in order to do a more efficient design. Where needed and roads are substandard or gravel roads the roads will be upgraded or resurfaced.

5.2 Background Traffic Conditions

A growth rate of 3% per annum, over 5 years was applied to the 2020 existing traffic volumes and accordingly it was determined that intersections will operate at acceptable levels of service considering the impact of the proposed KTC Redevelopment Project.

5.3 Traffic Generation

The South African Trip Generation Rates Manual (SATGR) suggests 0,5 trips per residential unit for the low-income bracket. Based on the latter, the proposed residential component can be expected to generate 954 peak hour trips. However, these residential units will not be new or additional to the existing, but will replace the existing units/households. Furthermore, the other land uses proposed on-site can be viewed as accompanying facilities to the residential. Significant external trips are not expected to be generated by the said facilities.

5.4 Parking

The prescribed parking rations contained in the Stellenbosch Zoning Scheme By-Law are considered excessive for the KTC application area context. Accordingly, parking ration information was considered for similar types of redevelopments amongst a parking survey conducted by the City of Cape Town in 2011, which survey determined the average parking ratio requirement to be in the order of ± 0,2 bays per residential unit. In addition, an informal survey of existing vehicles within the application area in Kayamandi was conducted based on aerial photography (2016). Based on the latter survey the TIA Report proposes and motivates a parking ratio of 0,25 parking bays per unit.

The recommendation has been discussed with Stellenbosch Municipality and it was agreed that the number of parking bays to be provided, as well as the layout thereof will be considered as part of the detailed Site Development Plan submission for each proposed development phase
